THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION'S INVESTIGATION

The Hearing on October 23

At the October 23 hearing, officials of the Electric Bond and Share Company again declined to produce records or to answer certain questions. Judge John F. MacLane, representing the company, said that it declined to submit witnesses for examination or produce records or papers until the fundamental and Constitutional legal questions presented at the hearing on October 7 have been adjudicated. On the subject of the election of federal officers, Judge MacLane made the following statement:

> "The Electric Bond and Share Company has made no disbursements to influence or control the election of President, Vice-President or members of the United States Senate, and, therefore, has no vouchers or records with respect thereto. Witnesses who have searched the records are available here to verify this statement."

Several officers of the company testified that they had made search of the vouchers and other records of the company over a period of three years, as specified by the Commission, and had found no evidence of payments toward influencing elections of federal officials.

Several employes of the Commission testified concerning examination of the books and papers of the Electric Bond and Share Company.

THE

Bribery and Secret Commissions Prevention League, Incorporated

(Founded October 30th, 1906)

SEEKS TO :

Create and maintain a healthy public opinion adverse to corrupt trading in any form, without which opinion the law is of comparatively little use ;

Safeguard our national good name and reputation ;

Ensure as far as possible honest methods and fair trading in domestic affairs and business ;

Conduct its affairs so that membership is a hall-mark of clean commercial dealings ;

Make the law known throughout the length and breadth of the land ;

Advise on difficult points of law and investigate doubtful cases and suspicious circumstances ;

Be vigilant so that it may warn, and, where necessary, prosecute offenders with an authority which a private person cannot wield ;

Arouse the nation to the danger resulting from increased bribery during the present period of keen competition ;

Protect members from bribes being offered to, or accepted by, their servants, business employees, and agents ;

Obtain for members individually the benefits which must accrue generally from a raising of the standard in regard to bribery.
